

Before the Federal Communications Commission
Washington, DC 20554

ORIGINAL

RECEIVED

DEC 16 2003

In re)
Revision of the Commission's Rules to Ensure) Compatibility with Enhanced 911 Emergency) Calling Systems)

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

CC Docket No. 94-102

To: The Commission

FURTHER SUPPLEMENT TO
CORR WIRELESS COMMUNICATIONS, LLC'S
EMERGENCY PETITION FOR SHORT-TERM WAIVER

Corr Wireless Communications, LLC, ("Corr"), by its attorneys, hereby supplements its August 22, 2003, Petition and its October 15, 2003, and November 17, 2003, Supplements, to request that it be granted until January 15, 2004, to complete the installation and implementation of Corr's E-911 Phase II system. We have previously reported that Corr contracted with a major E-911 system vendor to have its Phase II system installed and operational no later than September 1, 2003. As we have reported, a series of unanticipated bugs in the system as installed have been experienced, and each has been addressed by the vendor, either through substitution of additional equipment or through a specially developed software patch. Corr's Phase II system is now fully installed and operational, but it will require further testing and adjustment over the next two weeks to ensure that it is meeting the accuracy guidelines specified by the Commission's rules. Tests are scheduled for this week, and any further system modifications necessitated by the test results will be implemented promptly. In view of the Christmas and New Year's holidays and the need for the vendor's personnel to travel over that period, Corr is requesting an extension through January 15, 2004, to complete the testing and

No. of Copies rec'd
List ASCODE

014

fine-tuning process. We emphasize that Phase I and Phase II service are actually presently available to Corr's customers, but until the system is fully optimized, and accuracy compliance verified, we believe that a brief extension/waiver of the compliance date is needed.

Respectfully submitted,
Corr Wireless Communications, LLC

By  _____
Donald J. Evans

Fletcher, Heald & Hildreth, PLC
1300 North 17th Street, 11th Floor
Arlington, VA 22209
703-812-0400

Its Attorney

December 16, 2003