

The success of 802.11a, b, and g systems along with cell phone and portable phone systems suggest that the risk to current HF spectrum users is not warranted. There is also the issue of proving no fatal interference threat with legacy public transportation and medical systems.

I respectfully request that BPL be denied.

Thank you

Dave Carstensen