

The ARRL plan is a super idea and will get us up to speed with all the other countries. More code is just one of many aspects of Amateur Radio and should be treated as such. We want the amateur population to grow and keeping more codes isn't in the best interests of amateur radio. Go with the ARRL plan and do away with all morse code as a requirement.