

XM radio is great, and if you mess with our first ammendment right to freedom that you protect with government influence such as the war going on right noe, you you risk citizens in uproar. Why is there an issue? Turn off the radio if you don't want to listen, or go to the source that you choose for your news....the day the government starts choosing for me is the day that we loose our freedom and become a pre-Saddam Iraq. While on the topic of the first ammendment, HOWARD STERN is not as vulgar as you think, and if you don't want to hear him turn it off. If you're worried about exposure to 8 year olds - any 8 year old that has even the chance to listen to it - is not in school or being watched like they should be - so fault the parrents for that. Maybe you can make a new ammendment to make parent responsibility more strict while you're at the idea of taking away our freedom!

Pist off listened of XM and Howard Stern, who is sick of your power
