

I depend on XM-radio's weather and traffic reports even though they don't cover my primary residential area (Austin-Round Rock,TX). The local broadcast stations in Austin, Houston, and Dallas don't do a good enough job covering traffic and weather. The reports are given at irregular times on various stations and cannot be depended on. A full time traffic and weather station is the perfect answer for me. Any time I'm stuck in traffic in Houston or Dallas (or if I'm driving into the city) XM-Radio tells me instantly the traffic and weather conditions. It is a shame that Austin, TX traffic/weather isn't included at this time on XM radio. Texas is a large state and Texans love to travel. Please don't take this valuable resource away from us.I oppose HR 4026,
