

FCC--

I strongly support XM and satellite radio broadcasts. I am an avid listener of the weather and traffic broadcast every weekday. Unlike local stations I need not wait for commercials and unrelated information to determine the best route to work. As a paying subscriber of XM radio, the NAB or any other organization has no place to regulate or suggest regulation of a paid service. As a tax payer, I would hope that my wishes would be respected and XM be allowed to continue broadcasting the information that allows me to quickly and safely travel to and from work to pay those tax dollars.

Sincerely,

Eric Johnson
