

I feel that closing down XM instant traffic and weather would be a mistake. I pay for the service and feel its up to the consumer to vote on this issue based on the companys success. I use the service every weekday to run my business, the info given is crucial to efficient working conditions. I drive every day and the traffic reports save countless hours of drive time. I will be more than happy to listen to any program you may have to offer ( even with commercials) that can offer the same service and info. Please let this be a competition and compete. I know that XM has a lot mo0re to loose and is dictated by the consumer. I know from my experience that competition is not always easy to deal with but instead of trying to railroad your competition make your company stronger at that time instead of waiting around and trying to change things that may be out of your controll.Thank You
Greg Brooks