

I believe it is advisable for TV translator operators to have the ability (right) to choose the best channel for the people we serve. It is fair for the operators and their customers. Making us buy more expensive equipment because our channel(s) have been taken from us seems unfair all the way around.

signed

Robert L. Hemus