

As a consumer, why am I not given the right to select the channels I want. If I receive cable, I must buy a package of selected channels which the company determines. Some are not age appropriate and some are not welcome in my home. Other family channels are not available because they are not in the package. I believe that I am capable of making wise choices if I am given the opportunity. Please let me have that freedom.