

Leave the digital cable content alone. It is bad enough you are regulating us into the dark ages with radio content, and analog television content! Make the parents take responsibility for what their children watch. Perhaps these lazy parents will eventually learn to TEACH their children instead of whine, complain, and ruin television programming for the rest of us