

The VRS is an advantageous relay system for Deaf people. It enables us to feel as if we are having the phone conversation ourselves. There's really no other relay service that gives us that kind of opportunity. It's already bad enough that Deaf people have to use the relay service online which takes a long time for a brief conversation. The VRS has met our needs and to have that taken away from us is like giving candy to kid then taking it away. Please just leave it alone. Only we, Deaf people, know what our needs are.
