

Would you sit through a showing where the language is one you cannot understand? My language is closed captioning when it comes to T.V. Without captioning, I miss out on everything. Think how large a role T.V. plays as a communications device, in our nation's culture, politics, and media. It angers me that I cannot share a part in this part of our nation because there is no captioning. It creates fear and hysteria, especially when I cannot understand what is going on, as during events like 9-11 or the Columbia spaceship tragedy, where there was no captioning for an extended period of time.
