

Local stations here in Oklahoma City do not appear to use real time reporters for captioning, using teleprompt and leaving uncaptioned any fast breaking news, and for ever changing news such as the weather. I think they should use real time reporters. Also, what is captioned during day light is rebroadcast without captions after dark. I don't think captions should be left of on early morning reruns that were captioned when originally run.