I've written to each one of you a number of times regarding language on the radio.

The time has now come for us to focus on violence on the airwaves. I find it hard to believe that we haven't addressed this before. Lets be honest, kids watch TV. It is America's favorite babysitter. Plop them in front of the TV and go do something else. These children are subjected to a variety TV shows with many of them demonstrating violence, sex a questionable content.

It is time for our government bodies to step up and enforce the laws that are on the books and not look the other way. Please fulfill your responsibilities as the FCC.

Sincerely,

Glenn Smith

Commissioner Abernathy:

To Whom it may concern:

I believe that when children see violence on tv it makes it easier for them to do some of the violent things they see on tv, whereas if they had not seen this type of behaviour they may not have tried to imitate some of these violence acts. Please set up regulations and fines that will STOP violence on tv.

Sincerely,

Judy Hall
