

People's lives are shaped by television, sometimes more often than real life experiences. Television has the power to make people PASSIVE. Airing political propaganda that puts one presidential candidate in an unfavorable light without a side-by-side comparison is HIGHLY UNETHICAL. People should be allowed to distinguish truth from lies based on information coming from BOTH parties. Sinclair's plans to air the anti-Kerry documentary on so many stations at once shows the political leaning of one large corporation, not an objective look at the candidates. It is basically one long COMMERCIAL.
