

"Stolen Honor" is not a news program, rather it is a partisan political attack on Senator Kerry, filled with gross inaccuracies. It amounts to a very long, free campaign commercial for George W. Bush, and as such, it should be considered like any other "in kind" campaign contributions. Since it is a campaign commercial, the Kerry campaign should have equal time available on the same networks.