

Thank you for this format to voice the comments of consumers of radio programming to the FCC. The "Localism" campaign raises significant concerns for my family. The use of FM translators in local areas has allowed the affordable delivery of family friendly radio content to my family in the Phoenix valley for many years that would otherwise not be available. Specifically, the KLOVE and AIR1 Christian radio networks bring wholesome content in a friendly, non-commercial format to this market and may other markets across this nation. These network based systems using their web of FM and FM translator frequencies is a very positive and appreciated use of the radio medium. Please preserve the option of and availability to these radio frequencies to the network providers that actually create a sense of community and unity across this nation. There are plenty of options available for purely local content when ever that is desired by the listening audience. T

Thank you again for this opportunity to voice our opinions.
