

There should be a space for the public to document abuses of ownership power and cross promotion that do not serve the public interest.