

I strongly support the rapid expansion of Voice over IP and the ability of the consumer to use such services without additional service charges.