

I wish to choose my own Internet Provider and not be forced to use Qwest. What is happening to the idea of competition in the market place (such as long distance carriers, etc)?