

Please don't change the existing law for telemarketers. I like my piece and quite in the evenings and there is enough advertising and marketing for me to make choices other than by phone calls. I would rather cancel my home phone services if the law eases and allows my phone to ring off the hook again.