

Finally we get peace and quiet from phones ringing at meal time and others and banks want to take it away. The banking industry already has too much power and access to many resources to conduct their business. I vote for Wisconsin maintaining its current no call list as is.