

The state of Wisconsin "Do not call list" law should be used by the federal government for all states. There is no reason people should be harrassed at home or work by telemarketers. They are often rude and make you feel guilty for saying no, or finally hanging up on them.