Gentlepersons,

As a resident of Indiana, I would like the FCC to know that I find the telephone privacy procedure too restrictive.

1. I feel the legislation impedes businesses that have a previous relationship with a consumer

2. When a consumer calls a company, the company should return the call without facing penalty!

3 Phone technologies allow consumers to accept or not accept a call. Indiana is not giving consumers the right to choose which calls he/she accepts.

Therefore, I suggest the Indiana law be modified or revert to the Federal legislation.

Respectfully yours,

Yocheved Samson, Ph. D.
