

If we allow banking institutes to give out our private information to their other customers, then where is our security? I know you value your privacy as well as the next person, but we can not allow banking institutes to hand over our rights too. We the people of Indiana are grateful to have a bill in place to eliminate unwanted calls.

Robert Patrick Nutt