

Just wanted to add my two cents to try and stop Bell South getting their way. Because of smaller companies we've had decent prices but if they get their way the cost of being online is going to rocket. That is all.