

We have the right to govern our own state. We are compliant with enforcement of Fed statutes and because we, as citizens of NJ want more privacy and control of our OWN LIVES (and homes and wire communications) the FCC decides to abuse it's charter?

It's horrid enough the FCC trashes the first amendment and intends to impose its agenda of morality on citizens and broadcasters - I mean, the radio has an off button if Howard Stern is offensive. No one "forces" another to listen.

Little by slow, with the Patriots Act to the FCC's invasiveness, we lose our freedom -- in this case, the freedom to govern our state.
