

I am president of an Internet Service Provider. I feel that any hindrance to open use of radio spectrum and any policy that favors fewer large companies will hinder innovation and service deployment. In particular the "first come, first right" part of this proposed policy is a major hindrance.