

I would ask the commission to not submit the noted request for the Consumers Banker Association. I have enough personal calls without interference in my personal time in the evenings. Almost all of their calls are name blanked and number displayed cannot be called I do business with people that I call or but from in person. And would never be a respondant to any calls made to me from any unrequested source.

So, Please uphold our right of statehood and personal privacy by not debasing our personal rights in this way. If I need to talk to someone, I'd like to be the one to make that call.

Sincerely,

John Ellis
