

Yes, I agree that all vrs equipments and services should be compatible or interoperable with one another. Sorenson has been a pain in the butt as far as using the relay service but their Missed Calls is very helpful in allowing us to see who tried to call us. I wish d-link had the same setup.