

I work for American Eagle as a Flight Attendant. I have had pilots complain during taxi and preparing for landing, that they are having static in their headsets. I then find a passenger with their cell phone on and have them turn it off. After the cell phone is turned off the static goes away. Imagine all cell phones on, the pilots won't be able to hear Ait Traffic Control. There needs to be more research on in air cell phone use and it's ramifications before approving. I feel it's a security and safety risk to me and the public. Don't approve this.
