

Hello,

Rainbox was in the process of selling the satellite items in question to echostar without waiting for a spinoff company, VOOM HD LLC being given a chance to use/buy first.

VOOM HD LLC is ready and able to take over these frequencies at this time. If you let Echostar have them, you are REMOVING valid competition from the industry. VOOM HD LLC is a viable 3rd satellite company. In previous filings, the FCC has always sided with increased competition and allowing better/more consumer choices. This is clearly in the best interest of the public.

Please allow them to continue to spin off and grow by allowing them to keep using the DBS frequencies at 61.5 (Rainbow-1).
