

I am a VOOM customer and would like to continue being so. Competition is good for everyone and we need to continue to have competition among satellite providers.