

I am an ecstatic VOOM subscriber, who left Echostar (Dish Network) as a very unhappy subscriber of 4 years. Allowing the transition of licenses and satellites to Echostar will kill a struggling, but viable and superior content provider - VOOM. Please allow for a third satellite service to flourish - especially one committed to the same High-Definition programming that you promote, and the other two providers pay only lip-service to.

Thanks,
-NICK