

I am writing this in response to Echostar's purchase of Rainbow 1 satellite from Rainbow DBS. As a Voom subscriber, I completely enjoy the programming and the clear, High Definition quality. I especially love Monsters HD and would love to continue enjoying the excellent services. I'd also love to continue having my Voom through Voom LLC at Rainbow 1 at the 61.5 frequencies they currently uplink and downlink to my satellite.

I feel that Voom was a wise choice and will prove to be, in time, a valuable asset to satellite television. With Echostar's purchase of the satellite, I feel we will be forced and bullied into receiving their services, just like they were able to purchase the satellite at a mere fraction of the price it's worth. Voom should be able to grow.
