

Reference: FCC Docket 05-72: Public Comments Against Sale/Transfer of VOOM Licenses

I have been a Voom subscriber for approximately eight months and I am a very satisfied customer, there is currently not another provider available that offers the HD programming that Voom offers. After subscribing to another satellite service and digital cable provider; these service providers did not have a comparable HD service available and for an additional fee the other satellite provider made available only 5 HD channels, also my total monthly Voom subscription cost are much lower then any other competitor that offered HD programming plus I did not have the $300.00 to $600.00 initial cost that was required by other service providers to take advantage of HD programming.

I ask that you please consider the consumer impact in our decision about the sale of Rainbow 1 to Echostar.

Thank You
