

I am against approval. I am a very satisfied Voom user. There is no other broadcaster available that rivals Voom HDTV service or the quality of both its HD and SD picture. Approval of the sale will restrict competition in satellite broadcasting and the ever growing HD market. The application should be denied.