

I am a Flight Attendant for SouthWest Airlines, and against the idea of cell phone use while in flight. First, it's hard enough to get some passengers to listen to us while thier not on the phone it would be almost imposible while thier on the phone. Two, I think it would cause more tension between passengers and possibly greater hostilities between crew and passengers. I know when I'm out in public I don't appreciate when someone is talking loudly on thier phone, it's hard enough to hear at cruise.

Thank You,
John Conley
