

I receive nearly 50 HD channels with VOOM including locals. If the sale of Rainbow 1 is approved, I may never have the opportunity to watch so much HD content for at least the next decade. In addition, VOOM has unique channels that are oriented to the family, such as FAMILY HD, ANIMANIA and special cultural channels like Gallery, Ultra and Auction that will never be made available again. In addition there are VOOM only specialty channels for Horror, Westerns and for Women. Taking these away from our family is not in the best interest of anyone except for making money for Echostar Communications, which lies to its customers continually and puts out an inferior picture. In addition to HD, VOOM has the best SD picture available.
