

As a flight attendant, I am totally AGAINST allowing cell phone usage on the planes. Just imagine some of the cell phone conversations you've been forced to listen to in your everyday life and then imagine being in a situation where you're an innocent captive audience. You're seated next to that chatty cell phone user for a five hour trans-continental flight. It's just a recipe for disaster...another reason for air rage. PLEASE don't allow it!