

Regarding Telephone Privacy Law: Before Indiana enacted the law prohibiting telephone solicitation, our family was subjected to the phone ringing all hours of the day AND NIGHT, rude tele-marketers, marketers who refused to take 'no' for an answer, and many repeat telemarketing calls from the same companies. We were disturbed at meal times, as well as after we had retired for the evening. Even though WE paid for our telephone service, our phone was NOT ours to use as WE wanted. We urge you to NOT weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy law, in ANY way.
