

The current telephone privacy law in Indiana is perfect, and should not be amended.