

We are senior people and do not like continuous interruptions in our daily lives asking us to spend money on things we do not need.