

I am extremely happy with Inidana's no call list, it is very good for me and my family. It would be wrong to change this for people that wish to participate. I do not want ANY solicitation calls from people I do business with. If I want something they are offering I will call them. I do not want interruptions from solitaitaion phone calls during my private time with my family.