

I simply want to state that we should have the right to not be bothered at home. This one of my few quite times. In the past, answering the phone was an undesired option because of the numerous telemarketer calls. If I declare that I do not want to receive these calls that should be respected.