

Please do not enact the proposals under consideration which will weaken a very good law in Indiana regarding telephone solicitations. I recently moved from another part of Indiana to South Bend. I had the privacy restriction placed upon my old telephone number and have had to register our new number recently. During that interim time to enact our new telephone number, I received an average of 50 calls per month. All of these calls were annoying sales calls involving unwanted items and several were clearly scam calls attempting to solicit money from us. Please don't weaken our good laws here in Indiana as the current law is perfect and matches our desire to have complete access to our phone and discuss things with people we wish to hear from.

Thanks for your consideration
