

Indiana's telephone privacy law has been excellent. We have received no telemarketing phone calls since we signed up and our home has returned to being peaceful again. We used to have 6-10 hang ups on our machine during the day while at work and then another 6-10 calls again in the evening when we were home. Now the only phone calls we receive are from our family and friends. Please do not weaken the telephone privacy laws.