

My experience with the telephone privacy laws in Indiana have been excellent. Prior to placing myself on the no-call list, I received multiple telemarketing calls at my home. This is very annoying and an intrusion into my private time. I would ask that you not allow any changes at your level that would affect the Indiana law.