

Please do not change Indiana Law on telemarketers. This is the most annoying telephone call you can receive and less than one tenth of one percent of those called ever buy anything from these pests. There are very few laws that provide for the public over government and business. This is one-dont change it