

Dear Mr. Carter, Please keep our telemarketers from calling our homes. Since annoying telemarketers have'nt been allowed to call our home is enjoying relaxing evenings together as a family. When we got these calls we would answer several calls a night, from rude telemarketers who did not want to take no for an answer. They would call over and over again. I don't like to be rude to people, but hanging up on them was the only way to get rid of them, unless you unhooked your phone. Please keep them from taking time away from our families again. Thank you, D.L. Wilson
